ONE SHOT, 74 ARRESTED IN RAID

Jail Looms for Evan Fontaine; Still Wed

COURT ENDS BALM SUIT OF DANCER

STORY BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
STOCKTON, Jan. 3.—Evan Fontaine's annulment of his marriage with Shirley Adair was vacated today by Judge Tompkins in Supreme Court here, when he sustained charges of fraud brought by Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney in defense of a $1,000,000 breach-of-promise suit against him by the dancer.

Judge Tompkins, who granted the annulment in July, 1920, also ordered the District Attorney to bring before a grand jury all records in the case with a view to indictment. Miss Fontaine and her mother for perjury in having obtained the annulment through the dancer.

The court further recommended that the New York Bar Association investigate the practices of Charles Firestone, Mount Vernon and New York, attorney of record for the dancer in the suit for annulment.

SCORING BY COURT
A gross fraud has been perpetrated on the court," Justice Tompkins wrote in his decision. "The affidavit submitted by counsel for Whitney indicated several letters alleged to have been written by the dancer to him in which a plan of collusion is set forth to make their marriage void.

The dancer and Adair were married in Texas. It was the claim of Miss Fontaine that she became separated from her husband three hours after their marriage. He entered the navy and died sometime later.

COPIES OF LETTERS
Photocopies of letters and telegram submitted by Whitney's attorney purported to prove that she had lived at various New York hotels during the period the dancer claimed to have been separated from her husband.

Justice Tompkins' decision set forth that the evidence indicated Adair's repeated efforts to enter into a plan with his wife whereby the marriage might be annulled.

Mrs. Fontaine and her mother resided in California during the legal proceedings, having accepted the invitation of Whitney's attorney to come East to attend the trial.

Miss Fontaine had an international reputation as a dancer and commenced a secession in 1920 when she introduced weird Indo-Chinese to the stage in this country.

She formerly made her home in Greenwich village, section of New York City, and it was there that she met young Whitney, a grandson of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Senate Bursum Announces He Will Endeavor to Pass Measure Despite President's Action

STORY BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Senate Bursum, author of the bill which would increase pensions to Civilian and Mexican War pensioners, has admitted that he would endeavor to have the bill passed over the veto.

LITTLE DISCUSSION
When the bill passed the Senate, however, there was comparatively little discussion but there was no roll call, and, therefore, no indication of the Senate's position. Administration leaders tonight admitted that they would generally stand behind the President's veto. They are to be expected to do so.

HOST HELD IN $500,000 GEM THEFT

STORY BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Frank Barrett Carman, former actor, companion of the wealthy and host at the New Year's Eve party at which Mrs. C. P. Schoellkopf of Buffalo says she was robbed of jewels valued at $500,000, today was held without bail twenty men, as yet unarrested, in committing grand larceny. He will be examined Friday.

The police, after a search of Carman's apartment in West Fifty-second street, where the party was held, declared they had discovered a possible clew and that they were hunting for two men, residents of the apartment below Carman's, in which Mrs. Schoellkopf said she had been robbed. This apartment which Carman had taken over from Fanny Bruce, actress wife of Nicky Anstein, was seized, according to the police, on December 3 to three actors, one of whom, Captain Corbin, who has many hours, questioned guests at the party, said he hoped soon to pick up the trail of the gem.

STORY OF FIGHT WITH WINDS TOLD

STORY BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Four storm-tossed liners entered New York harbor today, all late and all carrying stories of fierce battles with gales that have been blowing for almost three weeks.

The Rochambeau had the hardest fight. Two days overdue she fought the storm, which at times reached waves fifty feet high. As she battled slowly ahead, French concert singers, men and women, sang almost continuously to quiet the fears of panic-stricken passengers battened below decks.

Three Fabre liners arrived at different ports of Europe.

THE CANADA, from Constantinople, was tossed about for days, reported, making the trip a difficult one for 390 Russian refugees, some of whom were said to be noblemen. The entire company was women to Ellis Island.

The Asia, from Lisbon and Providence from Marseilles, also reported heavy gales.

STEPHENS PAYS POLITICAL DEBTS BY APPOINTMENTS OF CLYDE SEAVEY, EGERTON SHORE

STORY BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 3.—Fulfilling predictions that he would use the State Railroad Commission as a means for rewarding political supporters, Gov. Stephens today named three new members of the rail regulatory body, and reappointed for a term of four years the president of the commission whose former appointment was due to expire in 1925. The job pay $8000 a year.

THE NEW RAILROAD COMMISSION MEMBERS ARE:

CLYDE L. SEAVEY, City Manager of Sacramento, former member of the State Board of Control, and virtual manager of the Governor's unsuccessful campaign for re-election, for a term of four years, succeeding Chester H. Rovell, re-appointed for a term of six years.

PICTURE OF EUROPE IS CHEERLESS

BY ROBERT BARRY
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Ambassador Harvey painted rather a dismal picture of European affairs, political and economic, to President Harding and Secretary Hughes today. He went over many phases of the problems confronting the chancelleries of Europe.

The attitude of Premier Poincaré of France was understood to have been described as constituting an almost insurmountable barrier to the sort of adjustment the American government would wish to see brought about.

Developments at the Paris conference of prime ministers prompted a feeling in high official quarters that the uncompromising attitude of the French would be responsible for the Hughes' plan of a commission of experts to fix a scientific estimate of what Germany can pay. Premier Poincaré was regarded as having revealed his purpose to play a hand if necessary to maintain the French view of what the sum of reparations ought to be. He became very doubtful here whether he would consent to be bound to any estimate arrived at by a commission of economists and financiers.

RESPONSIBILITY PLACED

THE American government has no wish to tell any nation what it should do about its own affairs. The President and Secretary Hughes have sought repeatedly to make that clear. They have not been able to escape an exercise of moral influence on France. The main statement of an American attitude did that. They will not resort to coercion according to the general acceptance of that term among nations. They cannot avoid having it known where responsibility rests for the financial difficulties of Europe, including France, has been praying.

Two Linemen Killed

MOSCOW, Jan. 3.—Claude Denain and Oscar Ross, two linemen of the Soviet power system, were fatally injured near La Grange when a power-line pole on which they were working this afternoon fell and carried them to the ground.

Both men were unharmed. They were strapped to the pole with safety belts when it gave way.

SPENDS DAY WITH HARVEY

THE President devoted virtually his entire day to discussion of the European situation with Col. Harvey. The only other caller at the conference before the Paris conference shall have adjourned. The representations would not have to come from the American government.

French rejection of the Bonar Law's reparations plan, the apparent failure of the conference would make natural an inquiry as to Poincaré's willingness to agree to the American proposal.

Current information in Washington is that he will refuse. He was seen by some who are abroad, had accepted the plan and could be expected to state publicly his unwillingness to concur in it.

FOREIGN SHIPS HELD INVOLATE

Brief Declares Vessels Have Right to Wet Stores

Asserts Congress Meant No Such Restrictions

Government Victory Dangers Pointed Out

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Confession of foreign ships found in American waters with intoxicating liquor aboard, and the depriving of foreign Ambassadors and other foreign consular representatives in this country of such beverages would follow logically a government victory in the steamship company's contest of the prohibition ruling of the Attorney-General, it was asserted yesterday in the Supreme Court tomorrow, former Atty.-Gen. George W. Wickersham, counsel for the foreign steamship companies, contended in a reply brief filed in the Supreme Court today.

Asserting that foreign ships have a right to bring intoxicating liquors into American harbors in sealed sea stores, Mr. Wickersham, in the brief, insisted that whatever Congress has intended to extend the police regulations of the United States over foreign ships within our ports "it has expressly declared such intention in unambiguous terms and has done so in the prohibition legislation. Definitions were cited to sustain the assertion that the Supreme Court had held that the patent laws "did not extend to a foreign machine," was a "matter of our power," and that a similar construction had been placed upon other laws.

WOULD LOSE SHIPS

Under the construction contended for by the government, the brief asserted, a foreign vessel with intoxicating liquor aboard, if forced by stress of weather into one of our ports, would forfeited under the Prohibition Act irrespective of all principles of international law and customary usages of "civilized nations."

"Our government consistently has maintained that foreign governments immunity from penalties for violating neutral laws, or liability to seizure for bringing goods subject to customs revenues within their jurisdiction, is inconsistent with the spirit of legislation affecting merchant vessels in foreign ports," the brief declares. "It itself has conceded to foreign merchant vessels such immunity, where such vessels were engaged in the trade, or whether to enter the jurisdictional waters of a country foreign to the flag of the ship."

Had it been the intention of Congress to prohibit foreign vessels from bringing intoxicating liquors into American ports, Mr. Wickersham insisted, it would have said so in its reference to smoking opium. Nowhere in that act is any law mentioned which specifically prohibits the inclusion of intoxicating liquor in sea stores.

HITS OPPONENTS

Despite the fact so eloquently set forth in the government's brief that the Prohibition Amendment and laws are the fruition of half a century of ardent efforts, prosecuted with religious fervor, we cannot understand," he stated.

LOOKING BACK

It took the world a long time to graduate from candles and oil lamps; and a long time to discard the old "hoss" and travel in "flivvers"; and a long time to ditch the one-horse street car and board the "trolley"; and a long time to talk over a wire and not have to keep scandal tales in cold storage. It took the world a long time to step into an elevator and dodge a cise. And it took the world a long time and the manufacturers and the clothiers, too, to stir up their "gray matter" and give the people the most sensible combination ever devised in the matter of dress.

WIFE ONLY FEAR OF STRONG MAN

Famed Character Appeals to Courts for Protection from Mate

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
VIENNA, Jan. 3.—The world's strongest man, Samson Broadhead, who dumfounded habits in Vienna cafes by driving nails in planks with his bare fist, has a Delilah, from whom he is seeking protection in the courts. He complains his wife's constant henepecking is breaking his spirit and he is afraid to go home and face her. Broadhead, who is Jewish, complains he made the original Samson's mistake of wedding a gentle and declares the Philistine does not appreciate his art.

"They should be given a wider scope than the fundamental guarantees of the American Bill of Rights," he said. "We have the right to be protected from trial by jury, of protection against loss of life, liberty or property save by the process of law, of double jeopardy of excessive bail or cruel and unusual punishment."

From the time of Magna Charta to the present day have been regarded by Englishmen and Americans as the foundation stones of civilized life."

OIL HISTORY FOR THE YEAR

All Production Records Are Broken by California

Territory About Los Angeles
Far in the Lead

Competitive Drilling Causes of Oversupply

California broke all previous records in the production of 189,000 barrels of petroleum during 1922. This is an increase of 24,000,000 barrels over the production of 1921. It represents one-fourth of the crude oil produced in the entire United States. The State Oil and Gas Supervisor estimates that the quantity of oil producible is produced alone, crude above 30 deg. Baume, almost equals the entire 1920 production of all grades of crude, which was 105,700,000 barrels.

The new increase in the production of residuum crudes is due to the lush production taken from the three intensively drilled new oil fields of Los Angeles and Orange counties. The total production of crude oil was 41,600,000 barrels, distributed as follows: Huntington Beach, 11,500,000 barrels; Long Beach, 14,300,000 barrels; and Santa Fe Springs, 10,800,000 barrels. Santa Fe Springs, with seventy-five producing wells, and Long Beach, with 125 producing wells, are each producing more oil than the entire Orange County area. The new areas are an area of 45,000 proved acres and have 3000 producing wells.

The rapid drilling in Southern California caused a reduction in the price of crude in 1922. The 40 cents per barrel for oil under 30 deg. Baume. Since that time the price has remained firm. Consumption has been greatly increased by shipments of crude and fuel oil to the Atlantic Coast and the Panama Canal. Existing differentials in prices and transportation costs between California crude and the so-called Mexican crude and other areas of California market to ship oil in quantities estimated as high as 10,000 barrels daily. This condition has created a new outlet for California petroleum.

OVERPRODUCTION

California production still leads consumption by about 1,000,000 barrels per month. In addition, it is estimated that 2800 wells with a normal output of about 12,000 barrels are shut down. A large part of the oil shut up is heavy oil, less than 30 deg. Baume. Oil in storage in the end of December, 1922, was about 1,000,000 barrels in excess of the storage of May, 1915, the previous high point for storage of production at the close of 1915, not including production shut down. Total oil production shut down was 170,000 barrels in excess of the average production increase over the period 1912 to 1911, inclusive, and consumption of 150,000 barrels in excess of the average consumption increase over the same period.

Drilling was concentrated in the Huntington Beach, Long Beach and Santa Fe Springs oil fields during 1922 and greatly curtailed in the other fields, especially in the San Joaquin Valley. Very few wells are being drilled in the oil fields of Fresno, Madera, and Fresno counties. On the whole, however, more new wells were reported to the State Oil and Gas Supervisor in 1922 than in 1921. Fourteen hundred and twenty-five wells were reported in 1922 and 1377 new wells in 1921. Seven hundred and ninety-nine new wells, 55 per cent of the drilling in the three fields, were reported in the three fields—Huntington Beach, 393 wells; Long Beach, 388 wells, and Santa Fe Springs, 355 wells.

The present situation of over production in California is due primarily to the competitive drilling of oil wells on adjoining small property holdings. In the development of each of the three new fields town-lot drilling has played a predominating part. Town-lot drilling should not be confused with close drilling or small acreage.

WALL STREET NEWS

BY MONITOR

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—An unusually large volume of rumors were afloat in today's market, most of them concerning railroads. For instance, the consistent strength shown by New Orleans, Texas and Mexico over the past several weeks was ascribed to buying by a large railway system, with the Southern Pacific. G. H. Walker, chairman of the board of New Orleans, Texas and Mexico, however, said that he had not heard this report and did not believe there could be any truth in it. Furthermore, it was pointed out by traders who follow the stock very closely, that two new world record obstructions to the Santa Fe system, and as such could hardly be compensated by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Another report has it that the new railroad connected with Newman's Erb were created control of the Minneapolis and St. Louis in the open market.

Payment by F. W. Marquette of the last 3 per cent back dividends on the preferred stock was announced, and the market and a majority of fact was freely predicted all day yesterday.

Announcement was made that the American Locomotive Company received orders for 133 new power units, and that total business received during the end of December, 1922, was about 1,000,000 barrels. Orders on the books of this company, as well as Baldwin, Lima, and other leading equipment makers, are sufficient to justify expectations of a high operating rate throughout the current year. From the West it is announced that St. Paul Railway is planning to spend $18,000,000 for new equipment during 1923 and an additional $12,000,000 on replacements and other improvements on the system as a whole.

The very favorable conditions existing throughout the copper market are reflected in the announcement that the plan is to retire all of the bonds now outstanding, amounting to about $18,000,000. Of this total, $8,000,000 are due in February, next, and the remaining $12,000,000 in February, 1924. The association will be compelled to do any new financing on retiring these bonds, and as the outstanding issues bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent, the premature retirement will effect a substantial saving. Practically all of the copper which had been held as collateral behind these bonds had been sold, with delivery dates extending up to the middle of the year, and it is possible that the association may have to effect some temporary loans for this period.

BANK DEPOSITS GROW

Tremendous Strides Made by Business in Past Year Revealed in Financial Rodeo

Total deposits of the twenty-four State and national banks within the limits of Los Angeles have grown 31 per cent in a year's time, and 9 per cent since the bank call of September 15.

This astonishing expansion substantiates the repeated statements of the immense flow of wealth into this city, and provides liberal foundation for a further broadening of business and industrial enterprises in the present years.

The reports of the fifteen State banks as of December 31 in accordance with the bank call issued by the State Banking Department show total deposits of $460,932,793.14, or an increase of 10 per cent over the conditions as reported on Sept. 15, 1922 and 8 per cent over Dec. 31, 1921. The strides made by the State institutions are responsible to a considerable extent for the total showing made by both classes of banks combined, as expansion in the form of branch banks has largely carried on by the State institutions.

The enormous amount of investment and loan business done by the banks in 1922 is testified by the amount reported of $390,817,070.74 in the investment and loan column. This is an increase of $36,334,856.54 over Sept. 15, 1922 and of $9,320,500 over a year ago.

In cash available, the State banks report a total of $78,714,870.79, or an increase of $5,913,186.81 over the conditions as shown by the bank call of September 15. As compared with Dec. 31, 1921, the increase is $12,954,170.02.

Two new banks, the Highland Avenue Savings Bank and the Federal Trust and Savings Bank of Hollywood, have been added since the bank call of September 15.

OIL HISTORY FOR THE YEAR

ages per well. The spacing of wells in several California fields, such as Kern River and McKittrick, is on an average basis of 2.0 to 2.4 acres per well. In these fields, however, are ten, twenty, and forty-acre tracts, or larger, in which wells were spaced according to what the operator considered was the most economical plan for extracting the oil.

SMOOTHING THE CURVE

The rate of production of California petroleum has its high and low points, like every other oil-producing district. In the inexorable workings of the law of supply and demand, it would seem possible, however, by careful study of development problems and intelligent effort, to level off some of the extremely high and low points in the curve. Some times, when the oil needed as in the war period, operators do not know where to turn, or how to get the maximum output with minimum use of men and materials. In the present condition much oil is available, but it is being produced like a big rusher out of control, because there is not the proper economic machinery to regulate the flow.

It is possible that some of the economic evils of town-drilling could be eliminated by more considerate legislation. Such legislation should recognize the equitable rights of some property owner in the oil under his land, whether a small lot or ten acres and should rigorously prevent the exploitation of California's most valuable mineral resources by the stock jobbers and "unitees."

WEEKLY SUMMARY

Oil field operations reported to State Oil and Gas Supervisor R. E. Collier during the week ending Dec. 20, 1922, show twenty-six new wells started, as compared with twenty-four during the previous week. The total new wells this year is 1439 as compared with 1257 for the same date last year.

Tests for water shut-off for the week numbered thirty-two, as compared with twenty during the previous week. Yearly total to date, 1922: total to same date last year, 3414.

Spending or drilling jobs numbered four, as compared with eight during the preceding week. Total to date this year, 776; total to same date last year, 671.

No notices of abandonment were filed, as compared with three during the preceding week. Total to date this year, 369; total to same date last year, 215.

With Safety Guaranteed

Every Investment Certificate issued by the PACIFIC BUILDING & LOAN ASSOCIATION is a first lien against all its assets. On January First there were outstanding $90,000 in Investment Certificates while the assets of the Association exceeded $602,200—a security of over 5½% for one.

Here is an investment safer than any first mortgage, because every dollar of our assets guarantees the principal and interest of each certificate issued. There is no better security than any bond because there are no forthcoming renewals or re-investments, no market fluctuations, and your funds are available at any time (subject to our by-laws.)

Where can you find equal safety and convenience with 7%, free from all State and local taxes?

Building for a Greater Los Angeles

THE Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has been in existence since 1888 and its membership now numbers 9165. A new Class "A" building, to cost not less than $2,500,000, will be constructed on Broadway near 12th Street, and will be owned and operated by a subsidiary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce Building Corporation
Ten Year 7% Secured Gold Bonds

This issue is secured by property equity amounting to $1,750,000, being subject to an issue of $2,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds on property with total estimated conservative value of $3,750,000.

Annual revenue from this property, as estimated by leading Los Angeles realtors, based on present rental values, is $267,100, after deducting all expenses, including interest charges, will be $152,200. By the time the building is completed it is extremely likely that the revenue will actually have a value of $300,000.

JOHN MOODY'S
 Review and Forecast
 1922-1923

FOR MANY YEARS PAST we have issued this annual review and forecast, which is recognized by the American public as an authoritative interpretation of the business and financial situation and outlook. In past years Mr. Moody's views have proved exceptionally accurate and far-sighted, and we believe that his deductions in regard to 1923 will be found equally correct.

No thinking American can afford to leave Mr. Moody's views unread. Some of the topics discussed are as follows:

The Agricultural Situation Credit and Future of France
 Our Foreign Markets The Large "F" in the Outlook
 What About Europe? Our Domestic Outlook
 The German Position Money Market for 1923
 The Reparations Problem The Outlook for Bonds
 The Outlook for Stocks

Fifty thousand copies of this letter have been printed to meet an unprecedented demand. While our "Review and Forecast" is primarily intended for our clients, a limited number of extra copies is available to inquirers. We suggest that you write at once.

PIONEERS OF INDUSTRY

Men pin their faith to stars—look upward and draw from the mighty dome of heaven—inspiration. Others sit by—roll away their time, their money, and their lives in idle pleasures—in momentary thrills. The one is SUCCESS—the other FAILURE.

THOSE who dream as poets dream, of mighty works and fashion from ethereal vision, concrete realities—they who create from the ores of earth, and the woods of forests those things that play a mighty play in daily life—the men who go before—who surmount obstacles "which cannot be surmounted"—who "do things that cannot be done"—who find in failure but the inspiration for success—who create, not for profit alone, but for the joy of creating—

They are the PIONEERS OF INDUSTRY. THOUSANDS move with them—some selfishly—other unselfishly, insincerely. Many imitate them, but none master them.

Such men build not for themselves alone. They are good builders, honest, sincere, and their houses rise mighty in the field of commerce—enduring through the ages, monuments to their name. They go upon the records in the Hall of Fame, and men come with the passing centuries, read of them, and ponder on their greatness.

Imitators who build false houses—build houses that crumble about their heads. The hollow bricks crush out their lives, and their names, and they are one with the disintegrate earth from whence they came.

Follow then the PIONEERS OF INDUSTRY.

WHEN our last oil well is drilled, and every one is a fountain of wealth—every storage tank overflowing—when our history is written, we ask no greater reward than that those who take up our work where we leave off, may say of us—

"They were good Builders
 They were Pioneers of Industry"—

BOND QUOTATIONS

Rail Bonds Active
 (BY A. P. NIGHTWALK)

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Second-grade railroad bonds made the best showing in today's irregular bond market, the main price tendency in which was upward. Some of the high-grade investment issues also advanced in response to the appearance of the foreign investment demand, but this has not become as pronounced as was expected. Prospective investors are believed to be holding back in the anticipation of more favorable purchase among the large volume of new securities soon to be offered.

French government and municipal bonds were not seriously affected by the price movements of the reparations conference and British bonds actually showed improvement in response to the higher rate for sterling. Czechoslovakia's 8½% is points and Mexican 4½% but the third and fourth 4½% and the Victory 4½% dropped 2 to 8 cents.

U. S. government bonds were in general up in the early morning, but the price changes at the close were irregular. The advanced 4½ cents on 1930 and Liberty 3½ cents, the second 4½ cents and the new 4½ cents to 4½ cents and the third and fourth 4½% and the Victory 4½% dropped 2 to 8 cents.

Announcement was made late today of the public offering of a new issue of $15,000,000 of ten and twenty-year Federal Land Bank 4½ per cent bonds at a price of 101 and interest to yield 4½ per cent to the redeemable date, 1933, and the principal to be paid in three annual installments to re-demption or maturity.

The advance in railroad mortgages was led by Great Northern first 4½% and Denver and Rio Grande 4½% up 1½ cents. Seaboard Air Line, adjusted to more than 100, was ordinary active, advanced 13 cents on $100 and Liberty 3½ cents, the second 4½ cents and the new 4½ cents to 4½ cents and the third and fourth 4½% and the Victory 4½% dropped 2 to 8 cents.

Announcement was made today that the $6,000,000 offering of 7 per cent preferred stock of Armour & Co. of Delaware had been over-subscribed. The principal offering today was for $6,000,000 in issue of 7½ per cent bonds, 6½ per cent farm loan bonds, which were sold to the public at 103 and the accrued interest.

Total sales per value were $11,549,000.

GREAT VARIETY IN AIR PROGRAM

Listeners Hear Melody They Like Best
Instrumental Quintet Has Excellent Group
Readers and Others Make Up Good List

Music of the kind which radio stations approves unanimously was presented in generous quantity by KJH last night. The major part of the night concert was arranged through the courtesy of C. S. Delano, director of the Delano Quintet, up of Mr. Delano, Marjorie Dean, Clara M. Wilcox, Eddie Polley and Mary Davis. The group interprets excellent music on steel guitars, banjos and mandolins.

In certain selections by the Delano, soprano, sang without accompaniment, the delicate timbre of her voice blending harmoniously with the stringed instruments.

Mr. Delano has favored KJH listeners with several programs in the past, but last night's was the first that he has truly given so far the wide variety in the selections, the musical groupings, and the true variety of the members of his quintet made for an evening of unusual entertainment past excellent.

VERSATILE ARTISTE
Elizabeth Kanner, soprano and pianist, who was to have been featured in from KJH the other night, but because of illness did not fill the engagement, came on night and gave generously of her art, which truly is something to behold. Her program included "Sylvia" by Ory Spivack, and "Irish Melody," following which she sang "Song Without Words," by Brahms, "Hercules," by Hassler, and "Arabesque," by Debussy.

John Henry Hopkins, cornet soloist, came back last night after an absence of one week and continued his Wednesday evening California concert series, this time having Anne Marie as his subject.

W. Head, who is in charge of the Department of Public Relations in the Venice High School, presented his program at 9:45 p.m. just preceding the bellows story half hour. His subjects were: "Christmas story in verse," a reading from "The Book of Hours"; "The Big Read," to be a weekly feature during the second he has given.

Wright, coloratura soprano, accompanied by Gloria Miller, entertained the KJH listeners with such songs as "I Hear a Book of Life," by Cadman; "Come to the Fair," by Martin, and "Ave Maria" from "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Mascagni. Her voice, the feeling with which she sang and her high range added to her interpretations an incomparable charm.

CONCERT EXTENDED

Tuesday afternoon's concert was extended slightly out of courtesy to the Rotary Club meeting at the Hotel Maryland in Pasadena.

Up of duets, soprano solo and readings, the entire concert lasted for four hours.

Hilda Lee Wilkinson, soprano, and Clara Wilkinson, contralto, to the accompaniment of Ruth Bohm.

ON THE WHARF

WILBUR BASKET, or of "Wander-Ships" became in Antwerp was conducted in most monastic rigor. The men of Antwerp were known to be the most peaceful and the Hollanders the most peaceful. The Hollanders had only a splendid trade fleet, but the navy which disputed with the English had the control of the sea.

The Hollanders from the sea and their hidden ports raised the navy of insurrection against the domination of Philip of Spain which began the terrible 8 Years War in the low countries. The Molted Duke of Alva signed the country to the service of the Lord, but the Spaniards and the rack, for the sake of the State, but the Spaniards—the great day in Dutch history—was the day when the Duke of Alva and the Duke of Palma had turned the sea into a seaport. But the first era as a seaport, the sea prevented her victory, leaving the Scheldt and giving assistance to the Armada never during all these years lost their control of the East India Company founded in 1602 and the great power for the trade of Asia was earned.

After the fall of Antwerp, the warehouses became empty and the population dropped few years to 50,000. In the first great day of Antwerp, the city was in the imagination and character of venturesome men had been drawn nothing to a trading place never before equalled by any but Venice.

Anuary was held by the French from 1794 to 1814 and it was a day of insight and imagination of the men that she over her power of greatness, which began with the appropriation by Napoleon of the East and France. From this began to reconstruct the past. In 1865 she secured Holland the freedom of the sea and to a few prosperous years population doubled; her fame increased and the again became one of the opulent cities of the world.

In 1893 she closed 50,000 and such was her trade that in 1912 10,000,000 came into Antwerp and 1,000 went out, a magnificence whose value was at that time $100,000,000.

Justice W. S. Baird: There is no doubt that a change in the present system would bring about substantial justice for both defendant and plaintiff. The trial of a case in the weak nation, absolutely no merchant marine of her except a subsidized line to the Venice of the sixteenth century, become the center Liverpool of the twentieth century.

The far-sightedness of the League changed Antwerp from an unknown collection of houses the purple throne of sea power into the enterprise of power with the power of man, agitated, transformed, warehouses and deserted to the coopers of prosperity.

Los Angeles has the same needs only the ease of will and imagination to care for herself a trade that her doors.

ANGELO JUDGES FAVOR THREE-FOURTHS VERDICT

Eighteen of Twenty-two Jurists Urge Change in Law; Oppose Present Sanity Procedure

Should the law be changed to permit juries in criminal cases to return verdicts by a three-fourths majority, as recommended by the county grand jury?

Eighteen of twenty-two judges in Los Angeles favor the change, except where the penalty is capital punishment or life imprisonment. Some believe the change should apply to those cases also.

Given to the defendant and the prosecution, it is the opinion of the same, prevail on the question of whether a defendant pleading insanity should be tried first on that main issue of the case. I believe the present system is better and is a good idea, splendid, to have the court appoint all alienists. Then we would get unbiased opinions.

JUDGE DOWD

Justice Roy W. Dowd: I believe in a three-quarter verdict because of the moral benefits it would have. If it is known that a three-quarter's vote would convict persons who otherwise would commit crimes, would be less likely to do so.

It should be mandatory upon the court to first try the question of insanity in criminal cases. This question should be tried by the Lunacy Commission, and then taken before the trial court.

JUDGE SHENK

Justice Shenk: I favor a three-quarters verdict. Then we will reduce the number of hung juries. In all important affairs of life, we are governed by the three-quarters rule, or a majority.

I am in favor of hearing insanity evidence before the trial of the main facts in a case. The dispute into which expert testimony has come has been largely to the fact that it has been testimony by witnesses paid by respective parties.

JUDGE JUDGE FOLLETTE

Police Judge Follette: Three-quarters of a jury is competent to form a just and intelligent opinion of the guilt or innocence of a defendant. The requirement of a unanimous decision places a premium upon chicanery and device in the defense of criminal cases and capitalizes the weakness of human nature by making the result, dependent upon the peculiarity of one individual.

I would clarify the issue in criminal cases to have an insanity hearing before the trial of the main facts. This would be the means of saving the State thousands of dollars.

JUDGE BOWSER

Justice Bowser of El Monte, now sitting in Police Judge Follette's court: The suggested change to permit three-quarters of a jury to return a verdict in a criminal case, I think, would be a good idea. This would avoid the cost of extra trials for both the defendant and the State.

JUDGE HANBY

Justice W. S. Baird: There is no doubt that a change in the present system would bring about substantial justice for both defendant and plaintiff.

JUDGE W. S. BAIRD

JUDGE TOLAND

Justice Toland: I am in favor of a majority verdict in criminal cases except where the penalty is life imprisonment or capital punishment. I am inclined to think that in insanity cases the defendant should be tried on the plea before any other question is tried.

JUDGE VALENTINE

Justice Valentine: I would be in favor of a nine-to-three verdict in criminal cases, except in capital cases. There is much to be said on both sides of this question.

I am in favor of a majority plan to determine the sanity of prisoners by experts appointed by the court and paid for by the county.

JUDGE WOOD

Judge Wood: I don't approve of the divided verdict in criminal cases. The unanimous verdict is a protection to individual liberty. The greatest care should be exercised. It seems to be the feeling on the part of jurors that defendants should be tried before they have been brought to trial. The tendency is to convict defendants in criminal cases.

I approve of determining the sanity of defendants before the trial of criminal cases.

JUDGE HAHN

Judge Hahn: Except where capital punishment is involved, I am in favor of a majority verdict in criminal cases. I do not know any rule in life—business, social, political or otherwise—but what the majority rules. It is a fundamental principle of justice of the insanity proposition. It is less expensive and clears the road for trial.

JUDGE PARKER

Judge Parker: I don't approve of the majority verdict. To reduce the number of juries is an argument to obtain convictions on lesser charges. If it has evidence of a man's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt, experience shows that twelve men will return a verdict. The remedy lies in wise selection of jurors and a better examination as to jurors' qualifications.

I cannot see that it makes any difference in insanity cases, because it is the same standard in all cases on the same standard. What should be done is to change the standard of insanity. It is absolutely unsafe to take away from a man the right to order his defense.

JUDGE MONROE

Judge Monroe: I am in favor of the nine-to-one verdict. I am in favor of doing anything to rid cases of the so-called unwritten law.

I am in favor of Justice Wilbur's plan as to insanity as outlined in his recent address before the American Bar Association.

JUDGE KEETCH

Judge Keetch: I am in favor of the majority verdict. Experience shows that many criminal verdicts are the result of a compromise. I think under the majority plan we are apt to get a verdict in accordance with the evidence.

I am in favor of the insanity plan and of a commission absolutely unbiased and disinterested.

JUDGE HEWITT

Judge Hewitt: In all cases except capital punishment I am in favor of the 12-to-1 verdict. I am in favor of determining the insanity of a prisoner before the criminal case goes to trial. Experts appointed by the court would be disinterested and unbiased.

JUDGE WILLIS

Presiding Judge Willis: A 9-to-3 verdict lessens the defendant's chance of conviction. The State is against the defendant. If he is guilty the evidence should be enough to convince twelve men.

JUDGE MYERS

Judge Myers: I favor the majority verdict but do not think it is made for it. It might be possible to pass a law allowing the three-fourths verdict in and prosecution. It would be much better to permit three-quarters of the jury to return a verdict. The Scotch method might even be applied. In Scotland, where there is no agreement, the jury has an alternative of returning a verdict of "guilty, but not proved."

Because of the very nature of an insanity defense, without a doubt the question of insanity should be tried before the main issues of a case.

It is a good idea, splendid, to have the court appoint all alienists. Then we would get unbiased opinions.

JUDGE SUMMERTON

Judge Summerfield: I am in favor of the majority verdict in criminal cases. It seems a fair and prosecution. It would be much better to permit three-quarters of the jury to return a verdict. The Scotch method might even be applied.

It would be mandatory upon the court to first try the question of insanity in criminal cases. This question should be tried by the Lunacy Commission, and then taken before the trial court.

JUDGE SUMMERTON

Judge Summerfield: I am in favor of the majority verdict in criminal cases. It seems a fair and prosecution. It would be much better to permit three-quarters of the jury to return a verdict. The Scotch method might even be applied.</p

EVER WAS HER TIME OF DREAD

A. Woman Suffered from Colds and Rheumatism Troubles Disappear After Taking Tanlac

"I Wouldn't Think of Being Without It." She Says

"Tanlac helped me so much two years ago that I wouldn't think of taking anything else when I don't feel right," said Mrs. Jessie Jones, 618 E. 11th St., Los Angeles, Cal., as she purchased a bottle of the medicine at the Owl Drug Store recently.

"Indigestion kept me in misery several months. It was so bad, I couldn't eat meat or anything sour, and gas on my stomach after eating was simply awful. On top of that I had rheumatism all on one side of my face and I was fearfully nervous. I was so run-down I took cold easily and had a terrible time all winter."

"I started taking Tanlac when I read about it in the paper. In a short time I could eat anything without any trouble afterwards. The rheumatism left me, too, and I gained weight. I think Tanlac is just splendid."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists.

Over 25 million bottles sold.

Corns

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freeson" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting. Then simply lift it right off with fingers. The secret.

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freeson" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses without soreness or irritation. [Advertisement]

IF STOMACH IS TROUBLING YOU, CHEW A FEW!!

Instantly! End Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn, Acid Stomach

Taste pleasant! Work wonders! The moment you chew a few tablets of Papa's Diapepsin all the misery of indigestion and discomforted stomach ends.

Your stomach needs this harmless help. Get relief for a few cents. Millions of dyspepsia and stomach sufferers never bothered any more. Any drug store. [Advertisement]

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks, Sparkling Eyes, Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, imagine how you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel and tonics and then just to keep them fit. 15¢ and 30¢. [Advertisement]

People and Their Troubles

Listen, World!

WRITTEN AND ILLUSTRATED BY Elsie Robinson

This space is not devoted exclusively to the publication of my original thoughts. Very often my original thoughts are not worth publication. Rather, it is given over to comment upon all thoughts which are, or should be, of interest to the general public. And seldom does the daily press carry anything which surpasses the following plan in importance.

You have your own opinions on divorce. It is to be hoped that you have. But whatever they may be, it will be of value to consider this plan:

"The legislative department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs is at work preparing a Federal bill relating to marriage and divorce. If passed, Congress will make marriage more difficult and grant divorce on five grounds only—unfaithfulness, cruelty, abandonment for one year, incurable insanity, conviction for a felony, and non-observance of the civil rights and degrees granted in one State shall be recognized in all."

"License to marry must be applied for and secured in the county in which the couple resides and must be posted two weeks before issue, according to the bill. Affidavit must be filed that no legal impediment exists. Impediment includes:

Existing marriage contract; under age of 21 years, except upon parents' or guardians' consent; insanity, imbecility, pauperism, epilepsy, tuberculosis, or social disease.

"Heavy penalties are provided for the county clerk who issues a license to marry in violation of national uniform legislation."

in the same primary, won out by 50,000. In the November election, in which the clear-cut issue involved a straight-out endorsement of the Harding administration, Senator Johnson carried California by 350,000, a record-breaker, while the only other candidate for the nomination, running on the same ticket with Senator Johnson, received only 21,000 majority, his campaign having been based on purely State issues.

This magnificent endorsement of the Harding administration was due in part to the fact that Californians fully realized that the enactment of the Revenue Law of 1921 meant a reduced Federal tax rate in California alone, more than 150,000,000 annually, and it made the United States the one country on the globe where a married man is exempt from all income taxation and his earnings exceed $500. No other country so protects its man and family who works.

Let the man know that California is for Harding, for last and all the time.

Race as Radical

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Prussianism is a mental state not confined to Germany. It is the desire of the few to tell the many what is good for them and then pass laws to make them do it. Prussianism is the doctrine that the few could rule the many.

Americanism is the doctrine that the majority decides what the few should do and passes laws compelling performance.

Prussianism may be more efficient than Americanism makes any mistake. But under Americanism there will be more progress and individual liberty will be better safeguarded.

In the Arbutus case Prussianism has reared its head in the Los Angeles churches. The few are trying to tell us many what pictures we should see. Passing from trying to censor the picture (they may be good) to censor the actor. Under this all actors must procure a clean bill of moral health before we may can see their pictures. How few pictures we should see! Logically, all preachers should be allowed as many in the congregation to hear the word.

How few sermons we should hear! Our editors also must get a clean bill of moral health.

For fear you might not publish get a clean bill of moral health.

Question: Just what is a "frontier"? E. C. D.

Answer: The frontier is the long, narrow, advanced strip of frontier land, a frontier region which contains more than two people and less than six people to the square mile.

Q: When were office holders first assessed for campaign purposes? H. G.

A: In 1881 the salaries of office holders were occasionally assessed for party purposes, and within a few years the practice was well established.

Q: How should one paint a plastered house? G. D. C.

A: The Paint Manufacturers' Association says that the painting of a plastered house is practically the same as painting a wooden house, except that if the plaster is new, the paint will not hold unless it is first treated with a solution of 6 ounces of zinc sulphate in a gallon of water.

Q: What is the smallest number of acres that constitutes a farm? W. N.

A: The Bureau of Census says

American soldiers, sailors and marines gave up their lives, not to protect their country from unjust attack, but because they were "gullible" when they volunteered to do their country's call for help. According to Jones, all of these "gullible" heroes should have resisted the call like the great swash-buckler Bergdoff.

MISS DETROIT RACES

An hour and a half after the four men had left the Miss Detroit team, and the first race of the race had been run by the West, and Charlie F. Chapman, who drove the Miss Detroit, had sent the report that the Mystery had had trouble on the first race, and had to stop. At the same time he was feeding the team.
The Miss Detroit team had been picked up and was in Avalon, on the island.
When he said, was out of shape with the team, and had to stop. When he was right after the team had to stop, and only lacked a mile of a mile to catch the Miss
Detroit team.

A few minutes after when Joe Follett came, in the report was noted. When Joe was coming down at a great rate, he had to stop, and he had to stop. When he was right after the team
had to stop, and only lacked a mile of a mile to catch the Miss
Detroit team.

Information from San Bernardino, the team, indicated that the team had been tied for the championship in the Citrus Belt League football series last autumn, and in a letter to Secretary Fred L. McEuen announced that the Pomona basketball team would not play in the league. It

Greek Mat King

They Call Him Garlic Because He Is So Strong
Louie Pergantos, light heavyweight wrestling champion of Greece, who tackles Ad Santel in the feature event at the Philharmonic Auditorium tonight. Pergantos has a big following among the local Greek colony and all of his roosters figure him to trim Santel.

PERGANTOS TO BATTLE SANTEL

Light-Heavyweight Mat Men in Big Bout Tonight

Philharmonic Auditorium to be Scene of Match

Big Crowd Expected to Take in Title Struggle

Louis Pergantos, light-heavyweight champion wrestler of Greece, says that before 1923 is five days old there will be a new light-heavyweight champ of the world. Ad Santel, present holder of the world's title, says that he will still be champ. Just who is right will be decided tonight at the Philharmonic Auditorium where the two grapplers hook up in mortal combat.

Santel is a great favorite with the local wrestling fans because of his easy victory over Joe Vargas, Hungarian champ, in a recent match at the Philharmonic. Pergantos, however, is a better fighter. Pergantos is making his first appearance before Los Angeles mat enthusiasts and is out to make his debut a success. Pergantos feels certain he can top Santel, but it is the consensus of the multitude that he will not be able to defeat the man who has given Santel, Lewis Zorich, a tough battle.

Both men are in the top of condition for tonight's scrap and are out to win in quick fashion. It is expected that a big crowd will flock to the Auditorium to see the two wrestlers. The action will be intense.

NOMINATE DAVIS AS TENNIS HEAD

Donor of Famous Cup Honored by Racketeers

Wightman is Slated for Job as Vice Chief

Select Sectional Delegates for Service

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—New officers of the United States Lawn Tennis Association to be elected at the annual meeting in New York, February 3, will represent most of the leading centers of the game's activity, according to the formal list of nominations made public tonight.

Dwight F. Davis of Washington and St. Louis, donor of the famous international team trophy bearing his name, has been nominated to succeed Julian S. Myrick of New York as president. Davis, who now holds the office of vice president, will represent the Middle West.

New England is represented by the nomination of George W. Wightman of Boston as vice-president; Central New York by Paul H. Williams of Utica, as secretary, and the metropolitan by Louis H. Dajon of East Orange, N. J., as treasurer.

Other officers named for election at the annual meeting include:

President, H. R. Williams; 11, Philadelphia; Vice President, J. W. Wightman, 11, Philadelphia; Secretary, H. Colton, Philadelphia; Nominating committee, L. H. Wadsworth, Chicago; chairman, J. W. Wear, Philadelphia; C. C. Richardson, New York; Members of executive committee, G. T. Ade, H. W. Slocum, R. D. Wren and J. S. Myrick, all former presidents of the association.

Sectional delegates to serve until the 1928 annual meeting have been appointed by the following active associations: International L. T. A., B. M. Gannett, Salt Lake City; Pacific Northwest, L. T. A. 1, A. Goss, Portland; Or. Southern L. T. A., B. M. Grant, Atlanta, Ga.

SEMIPRO TWIRLERS GO WELL

"Dixie" Mathewson Joins Ranks of Bush Hatters to Sign Contracts

BY JOE BUSH
"Dixie" Mathewson, well-known bush pitcher, who has been twirling some fine ball lately, has joined the big list of semipro twirlers to sign contracts. Mathewson has affixed his John Henry to a Verona contract and will be seen galloping around in a Tiger uniform when spring practice begins.

Quite a number of local bushers have shown so much stuff of late that Angel and Tiger scouts have been looking for their latest. Ray Keough, star Norwalk beaver, has been grabbed by the Angels, while "Gump" Read, moun-nee of the White Kings, has signed with the Browns. The thaws set in. Both Keough and Read have been going great guns and are big reasons why their clubs are up in the running. The Monarchs star, who won nine straight victories and recently helped his club into first place in the County League by trimming the Downey Browns.

Ray Kifer, now Keough pitcher, has won a 10-3 win on Sunday and was so impressed by the youngster's showing that he ordered him to lay off baseball until spring training begins. This editor is glad to see the Norwalkers out of the County League.

Aside from these, Roy Hanna, Downey hurler, and "Duke" Dierck, mound man for Glendale, have been burning up local bush ball grounds with good pitching. Dierck has two no-hit, no-run victories to his credit, while Hanna has twirled one perfect game.

BOWLERS READY
The Angeles Academy is expected to be in full swing with its ten-pin work tonight when teams of the Southern California League resume play after a rest over the holidays.

BUMPER TALKS

Were You There?

Did you drive over to Pasadena Monday? Seemed to me like everyone who had a car took in the Tournament of Roses. Some of 'em took their wives, but only half of them had them. I'll bet I saw half a dozen boats with smashed headlights caused by the parking jam. I also saw a goodly number of cars with their B.T.W.A.T.G. Guards. And, believe me, people, when one of them was parked at the curb, it took a goodly number of room—it wasn't crowded until the head and tail lights were rubbed off.

P. S. Streets in Los Angeles are getting more congested every day. Better drive in and let me protect your bus against collision and parking accidents.

SPORT SHRAPNEL
By HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

There is bound, as in the aftermath of any important game, to be a lot of loose discussion as to whether U.S.C. or Penn State received the better of the breaks in their recent conflict.

It seems to be one of the usages of football to class a common or garden variety of fumble as a break, a view with which the writer never has been in full accord; perhaps as a result of years of following baseball, in which the fielding error, unless due to some freak action of the ball, is not accepted as a break.

But for the purposes of this inquest we will accept the definition of the football surgeons in this respect.

The two important breaks which favored U.S.C. one of them eventually leading up to a touchdown, and the other nearly so, were due chiefly to their own alertness. First of these was the fumble by Wentz early in the game. Cummings recovered this fumble, and it was wholly due to his alertness in following the ball, and the speed and surety of the long dive which carried him on top of it. There were Penn State men who had as good a chance to recover the ball, but Cummings beat them to it. Twice during the game he was on top of a loose and rolling spheroid.

Having thus given the Trojans possession of the ball, they then started that march which ended only when they lost it with a freak fumble on Penn's 1-yard line.

Break the second came the Southerners' way when a punt by Mike Palm traveled only about ten yards, and went out of bounds on Penn's 35-yard line. Had not Cummings and Norman Anderson been closing in on Palm, the kick probably would have gone true. Palm, in his first two or three efforts, when the Penn line was holding, and he was not harassed, demonstrated that he is a punter of no mean ability with a maximum range of at least sixty yards.

So it was the breaking through and charging of the Trojan tackles which made this break, and which nullified what otherwise would have been a Penn State superiority in kicking.

The main break against U.S.C. was a real one. For the heel of a charging lineman to kick high in the air a ball being passed laterally by the center, as happened to the Trojans on Penn's 1-yard line, probably wouldn't be seen twice in a lifetime, if that often. This was not due to faulty football, lack of skill or uncertain execution, but one of those vagaries against which there can be no safeguard.

In recapitulation, U.S.C. made two of its own favorable breaks, suffered one unfortunate one through a flash of gridiron freakishness, and there is little in this angle of the game calculated to solace the Lions as they lick their wounds.

Heretofore, we have given each invading eastern team the benefit of every possible doubt regarding condition and the possible climatic effects.

However, it is a question whether Penn State owes its defeat so much to weakening as to a complete checkmating of its rather limited repertoire of offensive maneuvers. The Lion offensive seemed better designed for the days when five rather than ten yards was the distance to be spanned.

It may be regarded as significant that what appeared to be a weakening of the Lion attack after about ten minutes of play was simultaneous with a change in the Trojan defensive tactics designed to crush this attack. This was accomplished by the simple expedient of closing in and massing the resistance against that limited zone at which the Penn offensive was directed. As long as Penn's double pass with its variations baffled the Trojans as to what direction the ball would take, the Nittany backs got through for good gains. Their slowing down, I believe, was less due to sapped strength, than to a Trojan solution of the situation.

U.S.C. scored only one touchdown in the second half, and registered nothing in the final quarter, a result by no means indicating a waning resistance on the part of the opposition.

Surprise, and some disappointment were expressed, because of Palm's failure to get away to any of the long runs in which he was supposed to excel. And the belief seems to be quite general that the was of form. Incidentally, Wilson rated as one of the best open-field runners in the East, did nothing spectacular along this line.

These failures in no small degree were due to the fast charging of the Trojans, and their deadly tackling. Palm was as well covered as Berry of Pennsylvania was by Oregon. They were on him like a tarapul.

Golden West Has Turned Out Most Boxing Champs; How Britt Outwitted Young Corbett

BY DE WITT VAN COURT

The East vs. West. That has been the talk of the football fans for several years. Fifteen years ago we had the same arguments coming up with the boxing fans. After Young Corbett defeated Terry McGovern he became quite puffed up. He also made quite a reputation for himself as a "goat getter." In his contest with McGovern, it has been said by many of the fans who witnessed the contest that Terry lost his head and went wild when Corbett began to kid him and using some dirty talk.

Later a match was made between Jimmy Britt and Corbett. The match took place in San Francisco and both boys trained hard and were in prime condition for the fight. Britt had heard a lot about Corbett's "goat-getting" and went into the ring fully prepared for anything that Corbett might spring.

MAKE HIM WAIT
An old trick was to wait until the other fellow was in the ring, then make him wait there as long as possible. But on this occasion, Corbett sprung a new one by entering the ring right on the minute he called. He walked right into the ring apparently cool with a magazine under his arm, sat down in his corner and without even looking over the crowd, began reading.

They commented on, by many of the fans who looked for Jimmy Britt to follow in a very nervous condition. Jimmy took a peek out of his dressing room for Corbett, sitting quietly ready and as coolly as when he was in the ring. Dixon was a product of Boston.

WAS UNDEFEATED
Jehangir (Young Mitchell) Hergst, a native-born San Francisco boy, retired undefeated after knocking out George La Blanch in his time as "The Marvelous La Blanch" shortly after that knocked out Jack Bland the "Nonpareil." The greatest, middleweight of his time. La Blanch was from San Francisco, defeated John L. Sullivan in the twenty-weight championship in twenty-one rounds. Sullivan was another Boston boy. These contests represented the best boxers from the eastern picture and boxers from the wild-and-woolly West. Three for the West.

He is looking back over the records and we find California leads the way in winning out champion boxers. Since the Golden State has been formed there have been no championships developed in California. It takes the longer distances to do this. But our western football players have been the leaders during the past few years. It will not be long before we can place them in the same class as our boxers.

CORRECT ROUND SHOULDERS

Strengthen Back Muscles to Remedy Defect is Advice of Barclay L. Sevens

ARTICLE XVII
BY BARCLAY L. SEVERNS

Round shoulders are very common, unbecoming and unhealthy. They prevent the lungs from being used to their full capacity.

The shoulder girdle is constructed to permit the widest range of movement with the utmost lightness of structure, but the pelvic girdle, whose chief office is that of support, is firm and arch-like, with powerful ligaments, heavy bones and scarcely perceptible movement. The entire weight of the head, neck, upper extremities and shoulders hangs upon the flexible and growing spine during the arm's range of motion, and the muscles that steady the spinal column, rapidly become fatigued when thus kept on the strain and allow the shoulders to droop forward, bending the neck and back with it. The resulting deformity is called stoop shoulders, giant shoulders, round back, faulty attitude, kyphosis or bowed back, and when the deviation is to the side, either right or left, it is known as scoliosis or lateral curvature.

In the normal standing position, the long axis of the head, trunk and leg will form a straight line. A plumb-line should touch the dorsal spine, the head, the neck and the feet.

New York Financier, Returning East, Marvels at Way Los Angeles Has Grown

With leaders in the film industry at the station to see him off, Dr. A. H. Gianinni, well-known New York banker, left yesterday on the California Limited for the East. Dr. Gianinni is reputed to be one of the greatest bankers of the present day. He is president of one of New York's largest banking houses and is a director of the Bank of Italy chain.

California is Dr. Gianinni's home. He will never give up his California citizenship, he says. While his business interests are chiefly centered in New York and abroad, Los Angeles is the bright spot in his life.

"The progress of this wonderful country is amazing," says Gianinni. "I have been away for two years and for the life of me I can hardly recognize the business section. When I went out on West Adams Avenue, I found it a different city entirely.

At the station a large gathering of film players, managers, executives and friends awaited the arrival of Dr. Gianinni and his family. "When I can spare a few days I am going to remain in California and come back to you all," said Dr. Gianinni as the train pulled out toward a land surrounded by cold weather and snowstorms. Accompanying the doctor on his return to New York were his wife and their son, Bernard. Mrs. Gianinni was formerly one of the Denker girls, daughter of one of the oldest families of Los Angeles. The Denker home still reposes on West Adams Avenue, but the main portion of the huge estate has now been subdivided and sold to contractors desiring to make their homes in Los Angeles.

STATE SOCIETIES' FEDERATION ELECTS

At the annual meeting last Tuesday night of the fifty-one directors of the Federation of State Societies in California, Dr. E. H. Rublee was elected president of the federation for the coming year. Other officers elected were Dr. George MacNeill, first vice-president; W. D. McConnell, second vice-president; Dr. E. Adwine third vice-president; C. H. Paine, secretary, and H. J. Brubaker, treasurer.

Guests at the meeting included those who accompanied —Which means, in ye merchandising language, that the silk section must add to its previous and very commendable economy endeavors, new effort. Quite a task in view of the price lowering already in effect, you will agree, but one which we confidently believe will be successfully accomplished. We base our convictions on the nature of the items to be forwarded—for instance there will be

750 Yards of Imported

Thirtieth Anniversary
NUMBER OF

VOGUE

Baud. Jan. 1

The most amusing issue of any fashion magazine ever published

Vogue has been the undisputed mirror of the mode for thirty years, and now turns that mirror backward for your benefit.

It shows you every silhouette the mode has ever cast—the time when woman's figure was all curves like a question mark and her skirts swept the ground; and the time when she was slim and straight as an exclamation point and skirts just covered knees.

It shows you the amazingly innocent coquetry of the '90s, and how she learned to use a lipstick, smoke a cigarette, dye her nose, bob her hair, discard her corsets—and it shows you the newest threat from Paris that corsets and good manners must be resumed!

And it gives you a chance—if you've followed Vogue and are clear about the mode—to have a Paris gown made to measure by one of the most famous makers in France, with the bill sent to Vogue.

Could you imagine thirty-five cents buying so much—and the chance of a French gown besides? Buy it now at the nearest news stand.

Special Introductory Offer Limited to New Subscribers

For one year, for which you may subscribe for the next eleven issues of Vogue. This will be your money and the money of your friends.

Send in your name and address and we will send you a copy of the magazine.

Prominent Army and Navy Men Leaving for East Coast on Henderson Tomorrow

Gen. Harry J. Hatch, formerly commandant of Fort MacArthur and considered the foremost coast artillery expert in the United States Army, will be among the 150 prominent Army and Navy passengers on the first of the East Coast tomorrow on the naval transport Henderson. Gen. Hatch, who left the local post to become president of the Artillery School at Fort Monroe, has been spending a sick leave of three months in the Southland. He is returning to duty at Fort Monmouth, having been assigned to duty as chief of staff of the Supply Department, New York City. He will be succeeded temporarily in command of the Submarine Base by Commandant William A. Miller, who will also be a passenger on the Henderson.

Gen. William A. Miller, who will be relieved today as commander of the Los Angeles Harbor Defense Base, will also be a passenger on the Henderson, having been assigned to duty as chief of staff of the Supply Department, New York City. He will be succeeded temporarily in command of the Submarine Base by Commandant William A. Miller, who will also be a passenger on the Henderson.

Choice Vegetable

A bed of English Daisies will prove a lasting joy. They are hardy growers, prolific and constant bloomers and will continue to flower over a period of years. Some extra choice German-grown plants with fine root systems are offered at 50c dozen (mailing 10c extra.)

With proper care an asparagus bed can be made to bear for years. The two best varieties are Palmetto (large tender and green) and Argentian (extra large, crisp and white). German-grown roots, extra choice and hardy, 50c dozen (mailing 10c extra.)

Horseradish roots—German-grown 15c dozen. There's only one way to get that good, old-fashioned taste—GROW YOUR OWN.

Only Eternal Vigilance

Controls Devil Grass

Because it's the natural sod of California, and because every winter and watering deposits devil grass seeds on our lawns we can never hope to be entirely free of this evil. But, we CAN control it. A Rich Awn "ultravite" cuts up the spreading root system of devil grass and gives the strangled roots of blue grass a chance. It also aerates the soil and induces a rich, green, more luxuriant growth. The Rich Law Cultivator, formerly known as "Cutter-Bar Rake," is a heavy steel bar fitted with a series of specially designed knife-like blades. Complete with handle, the price is $5. No one who hopes to have a beautiful lawn can get along without this tool. (Send express charges collect.)

Spray Everything Now!

Spray poultry houses, kennels, hives, etc. with Cann's Canco. It kills vermin and is a thorough disinfectant. Quart. 50c. (mailing 12c)

Two sets eggs and rid deciduous plants and roses of scale, spray with Lime Sulphur. Small size 25c (mailing 5c.)

Citrus trees, evergreens, house plants and new and tender growths should be sprayed with Lemon Oil. Positively will not burn tender foliage. 50c (mailing 5c.)
